

Commas to the Rescue

I can use commas instead of 'and' when writing a list.

Save your readers by rewriting boring breathless lists and replacing 'and's with commas. Don't forget to leave the last 'and' so the sentence still makes sense.

1	For my holiday, in my suitcase I will pack a towel and two pairs of shorts and three t-shirts and a pair of goggles.
2	Under the sofa I found an apple core and a twenty pence piece and a used bus ticket and a forgotten hairbrush.
3	At the zoo were yellow lions and brown bears and striped zebras and long snakes and fierce tigers.
4	Winter can be cold and dark and wet and long and a little bit miserable.
5	The bike was new and red and shiny and fast. It had a bell and a basket and a light.
6	Fruit is healthy and sweet and colourful. It comes from countries like Spain, India and Thailand.
7	At break he played football and catch and hide and seek and dodgeball.
8	The shop sold perfect fish and fantastic chips.
